

KENDALL ELEVEN SECURES A GAME

Presbyterian Team to Play Local Men On New Year's Day.

THORPE MAY BE HERE

Reports Show That Some of Best Players in Nation Now in Oklahoma.

Though disappointed temporarily by the failure of Phillips University to clash with Kendall College football team for the gridiron title or the state fair appetites will be appeased by the consummation of a tilt with selected team of Oklahoma stars to meet the Presbyterian eleven at McNulty park on New Year's afternoon.

Included in the roster of the choice of talent as present listed in the Sooners' slate is Thorpe, member of the navy team, Boston Institute of Technology, Boston Indians, Boston, and the Thorpe brothers, leaders in Oklahoma football while with the Oklahoma university entry of Norman, Harris, West Virginia, one of the sensations in gridiron circles in the past two or three years. First, a former Kenndallite will line up against his former comrades, while Winger, Jones, Weller, Smith, Freeman, Winchell and G. Jones have made their pecuniary records highly complimented with the Oklahoma professionals, with a gridiron squadron able to cope with the famed Canton, Massillon and other professional aggregations of reputa, which abound throughout Ohio and other corn belt regions.

Some of the greatest pugilistic pushers in the history of the game find haven on those noted combinations, Jim Thorpe, sterling Carlisle luminary, being as noteworthy in this section of the country as gridiron mightie in the northeast.

Though the picked aggregation abounds in the country's highest calibre celebrities Kendallites do not fear them as their marvelous record of the recent campaign has given them a confidence that makes them feel that they need not take a back seat to any aggregation in the country.

Their eagerness to tackle Notre Dame, Kansas University, Rice Institute, Baylor University of Waco, Phillips University of Enid, or each and every post season nomination mentioned shows that the local institution has a backbone of steel propensities.
